ANNE KROOK

Anne Krook creates strategies and tactics to help groups of employees work together in the most productive workplace environments. She is a former academic who transitioned successfully to the corporate and nonprofit workplaces. She helps graduate students and postdocs transition to non-academic workplaces and help undergraduate humanities majors translate their skills into jobs. She began her career as an assistant professor at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. After 7 years, she began her work with Amazon .com, holding various roles in US and International website development, program management, internal audit, and infrastructure. She also has work experience as VP of Operations at a startup, Mindbloom, and then as VP of Operations at Synapse, a product design engineering company.
