

The 2018 CIPhER Summer Institute in Evidence-based Teaching & Course Design

Monday, May 21 - Thursday, May 24, 2018
at the Rizzo Conference Center, Chapel Hill

The CIPhER Summer Institute is designed for teaching faculty and associated academic staff from pharmacy and related health sciences who are committed to improving the effectiveness of teaching, assessment and course design in order to enhance student learning quality and success.

Through this intensive, interactive four-day institute, you will...

- Develop/refine a practical project to improve key aspects of teaching, assessment, and/or course design in your institution
- Learn powerful, evidence- and research-based strategies and techniques
- Develop transferable skills and knowledge to share and disseminate
- Gain strategies for doing research/scholarship and publishing on your project
- Enhance your effectiveness as a leader/facilitator of academic innovation
- Extend and enrich your professional network

$995 - per person for Individual Participants

$895 - per person for Institutional Teams of 3 or more

 Note: Fee includes breakfast and lunch each day, the opening reception and dinner on Monday. Fee does NOT include transportation or lodging.

Register before May 1, 2018

CIPhER* Summer Institute Core Faculty

Tom Angelo,
Ed.D. (UNC)

Jacqui McLaughlin,
Ph.D. (UNC)

Jessica Greene,
Pharm.D. (UNC)

Tina Brock,
Ed.D. (Monash)

Kenneth Royal,
Ph.D. (NC State)